

Profile

I am an energetic, hard-working 20-year-old from Stavanger with a passion for visual products. Through my enthusiasm, I am fascinated by companies like Also Known As and ANTI, which can combine design, strategy, and culture in their products. I love outside-the-box thinking that creates unique experiences that stands out. Growing up, I was constantly on YouTube and playing video games, which sparked my interest in technology. This interest has led me to self-learn most of the abilities listed below. I have always been motivated by the dream of being involved in creating visually and technically outstanding products.
